The Army

As the construction of the army barracks has progressed, quite a number of matters have arisen which it was felt would improve the building for local requirements. These various points have been taken up by Mr. Michener with the Militia Department and have now all received the Department's official sanction. They include—

1. The tapestry brick for external walls (laid in black mortar) instead of good hard common brick which is usual for army construction. This concession was largely made owing to the army being made a part of the Civic Centre Scheme.
2. A white sand and lime brick to interior of drill hall, instead of the usual whitewashing of the walls.
3. Cut stone dressings to all facades instead of concrete blocks.
4. Rooms in both towers are being finished for the residence of a caretaker.
5. All internal walls (except drill hall) to have hard wall plaster instead of V. joint.
6. A large open fire place, for the enjoyment of the troops, to the assembly room on first floor.
7. Provision for a large internal ash store.
8. Eaves troughing and down pipes with a complete system of drains around building to carry away all water from roof.
9. The substitution of asbestos shingles in place of galvanised iron roof called for in contract.

Mr. Michener has spared neither time nor trouble in getting all these various matters approved by the Department of Militia and Defence, and we feel sure that all citizens, irrespective of party, will appreciate his efforts in not only getting an army barracks in Red Deer, but in obtaining all minor matters which are considered essential to make the building absolutely up-to-date as an army barracks, and a credit in every respect to Red Deer and the Civic Centre Scheme.

Some delay in the construction of the army barracks has been caused owing to the non-arrival of the steel trusses for roof. These, however, are now being delivered on the site, and given reasonably good weather, the army barracks will be completed in every respect by the New Year.

Death of Mrs. J. C. Colvin

Mrs. J. C. Colvin died rather suddenly early Thursday morning, Nov. 20th, at her home on Second Street South. Mrs. Colvin had not had very good health for some years, and it was on the advice of her doctor in Scotland that she should leave for Alberta thirteen months ago, with her two sons, to join her husband. The climate here suited her, and she had improved to a considerable extent, but was too weak to overcome a severe attack of hemorrhage, followed by another a few hours later, which proved fatal. The deceased was 42 years of age, and leaves a husband and two sons to mourn her sudden death. She was laid to rest in the Red Deer Cemetery on Saturday afternoon, quite a number of sympathizers attending the funeral.

Eckville

A. Badden will deliver a lecture on Socialism in the town hall, Eckville, on Monday evening, November 24th.

Mr. Smith & Son have several teams hauling grain to the shipping point to Winnipeg. J. Clouston shipped a car of oats about two weeks ago on which he realized a much better price than that being paid in Red Deer.

Jas. Williams made a business trip to the Rocky Mountain House last week.

A few days ago word was received that Mrs. J. Hittola had died in Butte, Montana. During the summer she had an accident which necessitated an operation, and she went to Butte for that purpose. The operation was performed, and she seemed to be progressing favorably, having sent word to her husband to meet her in Red Deer. However, Mr. Hittola received a telegram that his wife was not expected to live, and he left at once, but she had died before he arrived. The family have the sympathy of the community in their bereavement.

J. Kimla intends moving into a house with his name to the engineer, grinder, and will be prepared to do grinding and sawing for the public at moderate rates.

The social and dance held at the Blue Bell school on Friday evening was well attended and about $200 was collected.

The teachers and scholars of the Presbyterian Sunday School are hard at work preparing for the annual Christmas tree entertainment to be held on the evening of December 22nd.

McConnell Bros. have disposed of the Olympic billiard room and bowling alley to J. E. Conway, who intends to run an up-to-date establishment and solicits a share of the city's patronage.

Professor Burgess, who was to have lectured in the school assembly hall last night, missed his train; so that the lecture had to be postponed to a later date.

Curling Club Has Best Meeting and Banquet In Its History

The annual banquet of the Red Deer Curling Club took place Friday night last in the Parish Hall, and proved to be the most dainty and wholesome feast ever held in the history of the Club. The dinner, which was provided by the Woman's Auxiliary of St. Luke's Church, was a most excellent one, and between eighty and ninety members sat down to it, the head of the table being taken by J. A. Carswell, President of the Club, while H. Wallace, Vice-President, occupied the other end of the table. After everyone had done full justice to the good things provided, the tables were cleared away, and the President proposed the first toast of the evening, "The King," which was given with musical honors. On the members being seated again, the President addressed them briefly on the success of the club generally, and asked for a tribute to be paid to the memory of their late fellow member, J. D. Turnbull, which was done by all the members standing for a space of time in silence. He also drew attention to the illness of Capt. Cottingham, the oldest member of the Club, who he was pleased to say, was improving, and hoped to see him in his usual robust health. He spoke of the splendid new curling rink which was just completed, and said it was being formed and the rinks would soon be ready for curling. He congratulated the ladies on the splendid banquet provided, and in concluding his remarks, said there was a long programme before them and he should not take up any more time but call upon G. W. Greene to propose the toast of "Canada."

G. W. Greene spoke of the honor placed upon him by being given cups of such amount, and at the conclusion of his remarks the members responded with the singing of The Maple Leaf. Mayor F. W. Galbraith replied with a good speech, saying back to the early days of the history of Canada and showing the honored name borne one hundred and fifty years ago by Canadians, and how it was being upheld today. He read some copies of letters from the King of England to Canadians in the early days, and altogether made a very interesting address, which was one of the best of the evening, and was listened to with great attention.

The next toast on the list was the "Royal Curling Club of Scotland," and was proposed by R. B. Welliver. The speaker was in good form, and went on to show that, according to history, the game of curling was played before the year 1600 by the Flemish people, and it was supposed that it was introduced into Scotland by the Flemish merchants visiting that country, and had been developed year by year until it had reached its present scientific stage. The Royal Caledonian Club had been formed in 1838, seventy-five years ago, and started with about forty members, and today there were one thousand clubs affiliated with it, and Canadian, Lord Strathcona, as its President.

Rev. W. G. Brown, replying to the toast, related in a humorous manner the tale of an Irish patriot, who addressed his audiences by saying "My dear souls" instead of "My dear brethren," prefixing the word souls with the name of the town he was speaking in. On one occasion he was speaking in Cork, and commenced by saying "My dear Cork souls, raising a laugh against himself; and so he, the speaker, would commence by saying "My dear curling souls." Brown commented on the game of curling as viewed by different people from various standpoints, and went on to point out that it was thought by some people that the seat of the Empire was moving westward, and perhaps some day we should have the headquarters of the Royal Caledonian Curling Club in Winnipeg on further west. He was satisfied that curling was conducive to clean speech and clean living, and the Red Deer Club, in particular, was conducted in a very clean and able manner, and new members could find that so. The game also developed good points of character of man, and opportunities of showing good fellowship.

President Carswell said he was going to vary the programme a little. In the past Club of Police, Rothnie had always sang the curlers' first song, and he would now call upon Chief Anderson to do the same. The Chief, singing in his fine style, and was heartily cheered, when he rendered "I Love a Lassie," the chorus being taken up by everyone present in a jovial manner.

E. G. Johns was next to the front with the toast of "Kindred Sports." Mr. Johns is quite at

The New Post Office

The Department of Public Works at Ottawa has been enabled to definitely settle the space required, for the different Departments, and yesterday Architect Sharrman received a telegram from Ottawa, requesting him to lose no time in putting the modified working drawings into shape to enable tenders to be called for.

The following letter was received by Mr. Michener yesterday:

My Dear Michener: November 19, 1913.

I have yours of the 8th instant regarding Red Deer post office building. I have again taken this matter up with the Chief Architect, who advises me that the plans have been submitted to the various departments for their approval, and when these are returned from Ottawa, on which tenders will be called will be prepared immediately.

Yours sincerely,

$10,000 Fire at A. Gehrke's Farm

A disastrous fire broke out in the early hours of Tuesday morning at the farm of A. Gehrke, six miles west of Red Deer, involving the loss of sixteen head of horses and twenty-one head of cows, ten tons of timothy hay, wa-con, several sets of harness, dairy utensils, etc. How the fire started is a mystery. Mr. Gehrke and two sons were alone having just about 9:30 Monday night, and at that time everything appeared to be alright. Mr. Gehrke then went into the house and went to bed, but the boys went over to the Industrial School and returned home at 12 o'clock, passing the stable, and at that time there was no indication of anything being wrong, and no light or smoke to be seen. At 1:15 Tuesday morning, Mr. Gehrke awoke and found the stable all ablaze. He roused his family and went to the stable, and upon examination the whole of the stock were found to have suffocated to death. The building was a new one, 60x40; the lumber alone having cost about $15,000, and the loss was pretty well all of hay, and it is believed the fire must have started in the loft and burnt down because the animals being suffocated, and the floor and corner posts of the barn not being touched with the fire. Four head of the cattle killed had only just been brought from the east by Mr. Gehrke. The most unfortunate part of it is that there is absolutely no insurance upon the building or stock.

A Case of Abduction

Tuesday morning, Ross Piper, a young man aged about twenty-three, was arrested by Chief Anderson on a warrant issued by Geo. Ay Geo. England, brother of May England, his sister, a slim, delicate, shy, little girl of sixteen, for abduction. A week ago last Friday the couple disappeared from the city, and the Mounted Police failed to locate them. It transpires they went west. Saturday, Miss England returned in a great evening in great tribulation, claiming she had been kidnapped in North Red Deer and held in a tent by a masked man against her wishes, and had been assaulted. She could not tell who the man was. On being interviewed by Chief Anderson, she admitted that this story was false, and she had told her to Piper to tell it. Piper brought her in to Sylvan Lake on Saturday and she came to the city by stage. She admitted being with the prisoner while away. Monday night Piper returned to Red Deer and he was placed under arrest yesterday morning, as stated above.

Ross Piper is married to a well known young lady not yet out of her teens, daughter of our respected citizen, E. R. Hill, and has one child. He was raised by Alderman and Mrs. Piper, but is no relative of the family. His case comes up for a hearing, we understand, to-morrow.

Tracklaying on A. C. R. in Full Swing

Mr. J. G. Reed arrived in Red Deer last week and took charge of the tracklaying on the A.C.R. He brought with him about twenty-five men, but this number has now been augmented to about 150, and another batch of men is expected from Manitoba any day. The ties, fish-planks, etc., have been here some time, and now considerable steel has arrived, also the necessary machinery for laying the rails, and the work was commenced Monday and is now going on steadily. It is expected steel will be laid as far as the Medicine before the New Year.

Mail Order Houses Buy Newspapers

From the Dry Goods Review.

The big departmental stores continue to extend their interests in the control of the daily newspapers in Toronto, Montreal and Winnipeg.

Large interest in, and the control of,
 another Toronto daily has just been acquired. This makes three dailies in Toronto in which these mail order houses are financially interested. In Montreal it came out in legal proceedings recently that one of the oldest daily papers there passed some months ago into the hands of the chief owners of a rising mail order house which aims to monopolize the trade in Eastern Canada. There are now nine dailies

in Toronto, Montreal and Winnipeg, which are known to be owned, or controlled by, the big store and financial interests, and while posing as the mediums of public opinion are the organs of these interests. The trade of these houses has grown enormously in these cities where these dailies circulate, but in the other cities and smaller places

 where there are good local newspapers, they have not made the same

gains, because the local newspapers are well edited and are loyal to their local merchants and refuse to carry the advertising of the big city stores. The only way in which the big dailies can make their money is by cutting their prices. They get $3 to $5 a year in Montreal, Toronto and Winnipeg, but sell in other cities at $10 to $12 a year. This does not pay for the paper on which these newspapers are printed, but the heavy deficits are made up by subsidies through big advertising contracts and in other ways, and by the low postal rates. The merchants and newspapers outside of these three big centres should get together and insist that no newspaper should have the privilege of the mails

 which has a lower subscription price

outside than in the centre in which it is published or which sells at less than the cost of the paper used.

ALBERTA WANTS TO KEEP
 HER DINOSAURS.

Ottawa, Nov. 19.—Hon. Louis
 Coderre, minister of mines, has decided to put an end to the exportation of fossils by Americans of fossils

discovered in Canada. During the last year American scientific associations
 have been making remarkable discoveries of the remains of prehistoric

animals, particularly dinosaurs, in
 the valley of the Red Deer river,
 Alberta.

Protests have been received from
 Hon. J. R. Boyle, minister of education for Alberta, on behalf of the province, and from R. B. Bennett,

M.P. of Calgary. Mr. Coderre has made an investigation and, as a result, has decided to introduce legislation this coming session to prohibit the exportation of prehistoric

remains.

As Calkins has said, "Take away
 from the saloon the function of the entertainer of the people, and develop the recreational life of the people in every positive way." This brings up the question of the whole

 social life of the people—the question of housing, of wages, of social centres, of social clubs, etc. There must be direction given to the social

 desires and passions of the people—desires and passions which in themselves are good. Let us not forget
 that the worst is ever the corruption of the best.

"Whatever we do, let us elu-
 cinate and provide for the expression of those desires and passions to their highest ends, and whatever we adopt, be it government control, local action, prohibition or what not, let us bear in mind the whole recreational life of the people."

WILLOWDALE.
 A box social was held in the Willowdale school house on Friday evening, November 14th. A programme of music, recitations, etc., was furnished by the children and grown people of the school, and the proceeds of the sale, amounting to over $53, after expenses are paid.

Lunch boxes, prepared by the young ladies of Willowdale, sold at good prices, raising upwards of $40. Miss
 S. Hodgkinson acted as auctioneer most acceptably. Private contributions towards the fund for procuring food for the soldiers, and what not,
 amounting to over $53, after expenses
 are paid.

The small tax on grain has
 been dropped, but duty made a difference of only $12,000,000 in this calculation. The fact is that the English pay taxes on what they eat,

 and the Canadians on what they
 eat. The revenue raised is a heavy
 one—$494,000,000 per annum on tea,
 coffee, sugar and cereals alone. In the light of these statistics the disposition that England has free trade
 or even a free breakfast table can scarcely be maintained.

On the question of British tariff reform Mr. Collier said: "There is always wide advertising of the fact
 that England still leads in the voluntary export of her goods, but she imports more than she exports, and
 what should the youth who congratulates himself upon having grown
 so much stronger, so much heavier,
 so much taller in ten years, if all
 his rivals had during that time
 grown even stronger, heavier and
 taller than he?"

Between 1893 and 1907 the increase of men leaving England for
 other countries was 61 per cent.
 And there has been no falling off in British emigration in the last six years. Father has the flight from free trade to Canada and other pro-
 tectivist countries greatly increased
 in volume.

SKELTON CONSTRUCTED OF BONES FROM ALBERTA

Enough Recovered to Fashion
 Frame of Dinosaur—Five Feet High and Fifteen Feet
 Long

New York, Nov. 17.—Enough bones
 of the monodactyl or horned dinosaur have at last been unearthed from the Red Deer river region in Alberta, Canada, to form the first complete skeleton of the prehistoric creature. Barnum Brown, of the staff of the American Museum of Natural History, has just returned to New York with a carload of bones

of the dinosaur which he discovered in the Red Deer river region 3,000,000 years ago, it is estimated. Fragments of the bones which now make up the first complete skeleton of the monodactyl were first discovered in 1870.

 The skeleton complete shows that the creature stood about five feet high and was fifteen feet long. Besides the dinosaur there were found parts of three new species of the horned dinosaur, and sufficient material to complete the skeleton of which, a complete skeleton of a dinosaur which resembled a suit of armour and carried a sort of club, at the end of its tail. The discoveries make the dinosaur collection of the natural history museum here the finest of the sort in the world.

The small tax on grain has
 been dropped, but duty made a
 difference of only $12,000,000 in this calculation. The fact is that the

English pay taxes on what they eat,
 and the Canadians on what they
 eat. The revenue raised is a heavy
 one—$494,000,000 per annum on tea,
 coffee, sugar and cereals alone. In the light of these statistics the dis-
 position that England has free trade
 or even a free breakfast table can
 scarcely be maintained.

On the question of British tariff
 reform Mr. Collier said: "There is always wide advertising of the fact
 that England still leads in the voluntary export of her goods, but she
 imports more than she exports, and
 what should the youth who congrat-
 ulates himself upon having grown
 so much stronger, so much heavier,
 so much taller in ten years, if all
 his rivals had during that time
 grown even stronger, heavier and
 taller than he?"

Between 1893 and 1907 the increase of men leaving England for
 other countries was 61 per cent.
 And there has been no falling off in British emigration in the last six
 years. Father has the flight from
 free trade to Canada and other pro-
 tectivist countries greatly increased
 in volume.

 HER DINOSAURS.

Ottawa, Nov. 19.—Hon. Louis
 Coderre, minister of mines, has decided to put an end to the exporta-
 tion of fossils by Americans of fossils

discovered in Canada. During the last
 year American scientific associations
 have been making remarkable discoveries of the remains of prehistoric

animals, particularly dinosaurs, in
 the valley of the Red Deer river,
 Alberta.

Protests have been received from
 Hon. J. R. Boyle, minister of education for Alberta, on behalf of the province, and from R. B. Bennett,

M.P. of Calgary. Mr. Coderre has
 made an investigation and, as a result, has decided to introduce legislation this coming session to prohibit the exportation of prehistoric

remains.

As Calkins has said, "Take away
 from the saloon the function of the
 entertainer of the people, and develop the recreational life of the people in every positive way." This

brings up the question of the whole
 social life of the people—the question of housing, of wages, of social
 centres, of social clubs, etc. There

must be direction given to the social
 desires and passions of the people—desires and passions which in
 themselves are good. Let us not forget
 that the worst is ever the corruption of the best.

"Whatever we do, let us elu-
 cinate and provide for the expression

THE PROBLEM BEFORE US.
 Avaricious men, ready to trade on the weakness and folly of their fellows, build saloons, and offer liquor for sale, and the trouble begins. It has been said that "the good is the enemy of the best," and it would seem to have application here. This is not necessarily the whole truth, but it supplies a fact, doubtless, that is worthy of consideration by every social reformer.

"The next question is: Why should we endeavor to stop men of drinking? I am sure that the facts are patent to me, and I need not mention them. Gladstone is reported to have said that the ravages of intemperance exceed those of war, pestilence, and famine combined. We know that the evils are to the individual, to the community, and to the nation."

How are we going to stop drinking? This is a tremendous question.
 We are all agreed that the saloon must go. The liquor man are expecting it. But before we make up our minds to how it is going to be done, it is not well to consider well our position, lest we underestimate the work in hand. It may be that in order to successfully destroy the saloon and drive it down we may have to consider the reorganization of the recreational life of the people.

One of the difficulties in the way of reform may be that the average man does not know what to do with those hours which he has to spare when work and sleep are over. The problem of recreation seems to be to reduce tension and broaden and deepen the individuality of men. If this be true, then our programme must recognize it; and our legislation must be looked upon as narrow and incompetent that does not reckon on controlling the passions that at-present keep these evils alive.

A SUBSTITUTE FOR THE BAR.
 It may be that our best plan may be to set a competitive institution
 over against the bar and saloon,
 and in doing so follow the Apostle Paul who said, "Let not overcome of evil but overcome evil with good."

In other words it would not do to smother evil if we could, since treatment must counteract it. It breaks out somewhere else in the body politic in a different but no less dangerous form, but in crushing it place a positive good in its stead.

As Calkins has said, "Take away
 from the saloon the function of the

 op the recreational life of the people in every positive way." This

FAITH IN DOMINION

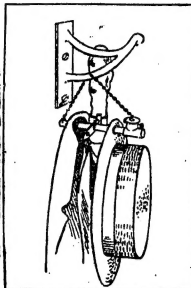

Quiet Years Mere Breathing Spells
Says Big Railroad Man

Speaking at Cochrane, Mr. A. W. Sutherland, chairman of the Grand Trunk Railway Board, declared his belief in Canada's future greatness and prosperity in the following words: "The spirit that animates you all to go forward and conquer will lead to a continuance of prosperity in Canada and if we have a little quieter year or two I do not think we should look upon it with any fear, but rather as a good omen that it will give us time to take breath to make the next big stride forward. I believe in the main Canada is sound, because as long as her immigrants come in, and as long as new land is broken up every year, that is the real source, the real standard of the wealth of Canada; and as long as that goes on I think the prosperity of Canada—although it may ebb and flow slightly—I do not think there is any considerable outlook to be apprehended, but that she will go on and show continued progress as she has done in the past."

CANNOT LOSE CLOTHES

Locking Device Designed to Frustrate
Hotel Thieves

Necessity is the mother of invention and the inventor of the lock for wearing apparel shown in the accompanying illustration, was probably prompted by an unfortunate experience in a restaurant of some busy city. He probably discovered that some persons keep themselves supplied with hats, umbrellas and coats by picking out the best at hand when they are ready to leave such a public place as a restaurant. If they make their getaway, all right, but if detected, it is a very simple matter to ask pardon and say mistake.

LOCKS HIS CLOTHING ON THE HOOK
This device, which has been recently patented in this country by a Canadian, consists of a bar with a removable head and a small chain and a key for locking the two parts together. If it is desired to relieve oneself of hat and coat, the garments are secured on the bar and the chain passed through an opening in the wall hook and they can then be left with perfect safety so far as stealing the garments is concerned. This bar is adapted to hold hat, coat and umbrella or cane.

BATH FOR EYEGLASSES

Good Results Follow a Good Soap and Water Wash

Do you ever give your eyeglasses a bath? If not, give them a surprise and see how you like the result.
Dampness and dust form a gummy combination on the eyeglasses, and the wearer of glasses or spectacles will find his vision, apparently, much improved by giving them a thorough washing daily with soap and warm water, followed by drying and polishing with tissue paper. The gummy substance which collects on the lenses cannot be removed by a mere rubbing with camels or tissue paper.
An oculist, who knows the importance of well-washed lenses, carries in his pocket a vial of alcohol. It takes but a moment to moisten the corner of a handkerchief and remove the combination of dust and moisture from his glasses. Another has the case of his glasses interlined with a folded bit of soft tissue, such as is used for copying letters in offices. This is so soft that it is easily folded into the small space of the receptacle case. No dust collects on this as it does on the velvet lining, and the tissue interlining is renewed every day or two.

Coffee From Figs

Ever since coffee has been a popular beverage, apparently, efforts have been made to find substitutes for it, either as mere adulterants, like chicory, or for the sake of greater wholesomeness or cheapness. Rye and other grains, lupine, acorns, beets and carrots have all been thus used, but the fig coffee of Austria is a decided novelty. An excellent coffee it is claimed to be made from dried and roasted figs, which need not be of the first quality.
They are dried in the sun or in evaporating pans, according to climate, and then roasted in ovens till brown or almost black and quite brittle. They are then ground up and the resultant powder is pressed into tablets. When made use of they are merely dissolved in hot water. The beverage is said to be agreeable in color and flavor with a somewhat sweeter taste than that made from chicory.

Baseball in Prison

The American passion for baseball has been turned to good purpose at a Delaware prison. The warden decided to gratify the inmates' love of the sport as a reward for conduct. All prisoners who obey the rules and observe the discipline of the institution are permitted to play or witness the games. While armed guards patrol the top of the wall about the exercise-yard where the sports are held, they have not been called upon to quell any trouble.

HUMBER'S TREMENDOUS Money Stringency Sale

Our entire stock which includes highest grade Diamonds, Watches, Gold and Gold-Filled Jewelry, Silverware, Cut Glass, Clocks, China, Leather Goods, etc., is involved in this sale, which will be an event that will be remembered for years to come.

In previous papers we have explained the reason for this unprecedented move. It is a recognized fact that, in the mercantile business, things often do not happen that you plan for. If conditions are favorable the merchant makes money, but if conditions become unfavorable then the merchant must suffer. This is precisely what has happened at the present time. Remember please, we are not complaining, and are willing to take the bad with the good. But we strongly advise our customers and the buying public generally to take advantage of this stupendous opportunity to supply your

THE MAYORALTY.

Alderman Carscaddon is definitely out for the position of Mayor said, according to all precedent, he is the logical candidate for the position.

For a number of years it has been the custom among the leading citizens of Red Deer to train a man in the Council in municipal affairs, and cutting out politics, place him at the head of our municipal parliament if he cared to accept the honor.

Up to the present time this has worked out with advantage to the city, and this year we are sure will be no exception to the rule.

Alderman Carscaddon is a man fully qualified for the position, and is the senior member of the Council. He is a man of sound judgment, a man who thinks for himself; perhaps a little quiet, but none the less a man who can be relied on to do what he thinks to be right against all odds, and a man of honor and sterling integrity. Nor is he a prig because, as a prominent skip of the curling club, he takes as much interest as the most of them in a good game of curling.

For these and many other reasons Alderman Carscaddon will have the support of The News in the present contest.

We wish to say a word here regarding F. W. Galbraith, who has signified his intention of not standing for another term as Mayor. While the taxes are high, it was not Mayor Galbraith or his Council that caused such a state of affairs. It was former Councils, who were acting in what they thought the best interests of the city and they had the people back of them.

The present year has been harder on the chief executive officer than any year in the city's history. Mayor Galbraith has done his work nobly and well. He has had more honor thrust upon him at provincial meetings outside the city than any Mayor in Alberta. He has had to grasp the helm of the ship of state firmly during the past season of money stringency, and he has brought his craft through the breakers with credit to himself and the city he represents, and he is worthy of the best thanks of the citizens of Red Deer.

There is talk of opposition to Alderman Carscaddon for Mayor. Among others ex-Mayor R. B. Welliver is mentioned. The News hardly thinks Mr. Welliver would come out again for Mayor. He has had his term in the chair, and we do not think it is coming to him, especially as he would be representing a certain class who are kicking at the high rate of taxation caused by the Councils of which Mr. Welliver was himself head, as our assessment is based on last year's values. On the other hand we would have no objection to Mr. Welliver coming out for the Council, in fact there would be a strong precedent for this, as H. H. Gaetz and W. J. Botterill both took seats on the Council following their term of office in the Mayor's chair as there were many things they were familiar with and helped along. The same thing would apply to Mr. Welliver.

MR. STONE'S LETTER.

H. G. Stone has thrown his hat into the ring, metaphorically speaking, and in a column and a half article in The Advocate jumps on the Mayor, aldermen and officials of the city with both feet, asks more questions than a wise man could possibly answer in a hundred years, and makes some statements which are not even true.

He first says the real estate interests control our Council. This is not true, because four of the seven members are not connected in any way with real estate.

He next objects to a Mayor being elected by acclamation. This is a free country, and if Mr. Stone, or any other citizen, with proper qualifications and two ratepayers to nominate him, desire to run for Mayor, he may do so. But the ratepayers generally require the man having the best qualifications for this office to represent them, and they do not often make a mistake, whether he is elected by acclamation or otherwise.

Thirdly, he attacks the present system of election of Commissioners by the Council, and would go back to the old ward system or at least election of Commissioners by the people. This looks reasonable, perhaps, to Mr. Stone, but we see no reason for such a change. At present the Commissioner is directly under the control of the Council, and is directly responsible to them, and is instructed by them as to the work he does. If Mr. Stone or any other citizen can find aught against the Commissioners, they would do well to report to the Council.

Fourthly, he thinks we should have another assessor at a salary of eight hundred or a thousand dollars to add to our taxes, which he claims are now too high. The salary of the present assessor is just one dollar. Mr. Stone is not consistent.

Fifth, he finds fault because newspaper men are on the Council. This is an old chestnut. The newspaper men, after having a term on the Council and seeing the manner in which the affairs of the city are run, are impressed more than ever with the fact that Red Deer is one of the best conducted municipalities in the west.

Sixth, he desires to know if we could not do with a reduced staff in the municipal offices. It is just possible we could save one boy's salary, but it is a question whether that would be a wise policy or not; we believe we get value for the money expended.

Seventh, he desires to know if there has been any increase in population or business during the past three years to warrant the increase in assessment. We contend there has been. Last year the city increased by twenty per cent. in buildings and population, at least. This year there has been very little increase. That condition is common. But let it be remembered that the assessment was on last year's increase.

Mr. Stone's property, which is worth about thirty thousand dollars, was not worth fifteen thousand three years ago. The property opposite was purchased three years ago for eight thousand dollars, and the owner refused twenty thousand for it this summer.

Mr. Stone says we have a beautiful city. We certainly have, and it is as healthy and prosperous as it is beautiful. But it has been made so by its former Councils and Mayors, who are also responsible in a large measure for present day taxes. Under Mayors Michener and H. H. Gaetz, we believe, water and sewer systems were installed, in which Mayors Botterill and Welliver took part during their terms to some extent, and cement walks were inaugurated during the term of Mayor Welliver more particularly.

What is the result? Red Deer is the only municipality of its size and age west of the Great Lakes that has never had a typhoid fever epidemic. And now, with our splendid water and sewer system, which has cost us considerable money, we admit, we feel sure we never will have, and scores of lives have been saved by having a clean, wholesome, beautiful, progressive and healthy city to live in.

Our Fire Brigade is a good one and costs considerable money, but what is the result? Our brave fire ladders surpass anything in the province, and they are as enthusiastic as they are competent. The result is we have the best record for fire losses in the province.

Our police cost us a good sum, but we have a clean town morally in consequence, and citizens know the strong arm of the law will get after evil-doers without fear or favor.

All this costs money, but it is the citizens themselves who have voted the money, and Mr. Stone says himself in answering his own questions, they are to blame if anybody is for the present rate of taxes, which are lower than any town of our size in Alberta, considering what we have got to boast of in the way of improvements.

THOSE MYSTERIOUS RUMORS.

"For the last few days," says the Ottawa Free Press, "there have been mysterious rumors that the costly government dredge Port Nelson, which was built in Toronto and sent to Hudson's Bay to open up the government port there, has been destroyed. Polson, who made the dredge, has this week received from Port Nelson a photograph, with the explanation that the dredge was purposely beached by the engineers during the high October tide, and all rocks removed so that there would be no danger. It is in excellent condition and will be ready for business next season."

The "mysterious rumors" were published by the Free Press itself in company with the rest of the Grit organs in Canada. They were mischief-making falsehoods concocted and published for a political purpose.

WHAT PAPER COULD THIS BE?

General Hertzig was one of the most active Boer commanders during the South African war, remains irreconcilably antagonistic to the British Empire. He has quarreled with General Botha on the ground that he is not sufficiently anti-British. In a speech recently delivered in Cape Colony, he is thus reported:

"What did the word 'Imperialist' mean? At present there was no such thing as the British Empire. There were Great Britain, Canada, New Zealand, Australia, and South Africa, and the object of Imperialist policy was to draw them closer together, while leaving each to manage local affairs so as to enable them to stand against any other power."

Such an idea General Hertzig found altogether hateful, and he proceeded to read to his audience an extract from a Canadian newspaper which he said proved that there were Canadians who held views similar to his own.

Guess what the name of the newspaper was.

"THERE'S A REASON."

That the wish is father to that thought is evident from the tone of the baseless rumors circulated by the Grit press to the effect that the Prime Minister, Rt. Hon. R. L. Borden, would retire in the near future. Coupled with this story was one that Mr. Borden's health was precarious. Both these reports were absolutely without foundation in fact, and are so ridiculous as to expose the motive.

The Liberal press and the Liberal leaders well know the strength of Mr. Borden with the Canadian people, and it is impossible for them to conceal their wish that something might occur to bring about his retirement.

But they are doomed to disappointment. They know very well that so long as Mr. Borden retains his present popularity and continues to conduct the affairs of the country in so statesmanlike a manner, the Liberal party is doomed to remain in the cool shade of Opposition.

Mr. Borden knows he is right, and he knows that the people know he is right.

THE REAL SITUATION AS TO WHEAT.

The wheat provision in the new United States tariff has been largely misunderstood in Canada; in many instances it has been misrepresented for political reasons. What is to be free if Canada takes off her duty on wheat, wheat flour and semolina. If she does not, the duty is to be reduced from 25 cents per bushel to 10 cents per bushel.

The impression seems to prevail in some quarters that the government of Canada can take off the wheat duty simply by saying so. This is wrong. The duty can only be removed by legislation passed by Parliament. What will be done in this respect, without hurting the manufacturer, of course it could. That is just what Sir Wilfrid Laurier did when he came into power. He revised the tariff by giving manufacturers free trade on a lot of their raw products, thereby putting a great deal more money in their pockets, while the same old prices were maintained against farmers on their wagons and agricultural implements. The manufacturers were thus more highly protected than they were before.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said at Joliette that he stood for a tariff revision. He also said the tariff could be revised without hurting the manufacturer. Of course it could. That is just what Sir Wilfrid did when he came into power. He revised the tariff by giving manufacturers free trade on a lot of their raw products, thereby putting a great deal more money in their pockets, while the same old prices were maintained against farmers on their wagons and agricultural implements. The manufacturers were thus more highly protected than they were before.

The leader of the Liberal party said recently he would appoint a tariff commission, if he was returned to power, to deal with the tariff question. How strange. A tariff commission? Where have we heard that word before? Oh, yes, now we remember. The Conservative leaders prior to the election of two years ago promised a tariff commission. One of the first measures introduced by the present Minister of Finance, Hon. W. T. White, provided for the appointment of a tariff commission. What happened to that bill? It was killed by the Laurier partisans in the Senate under Laurier's orders. Yet this same Laurier talks now of a tariff commission. Is he sincere?

Young People's Society of Valley Centre

The sixth meeting of the above Society since organization was held on Wednesday evening last, the 10th inst. The President opened the meeting with prayer and a reading of the Scriptures. The religious topic under consideration was

"The House We Live In." Messrs. Baily and Purdie discussed the topic and advised the young people present to abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors, and urged all who had the franchise to use it for the purpose of marking their ballots in favor of the temperance cause if opportunity should arise. During the discussion Mr. Purdie, Superintendent of the Sunday School, remarked "that if the ladies had the franchise prohibition of the liquor traffic would soon prevail." His remarks were received with applause. The subject for debate during the evening was "Resolved that observation is greater than education." Messrs. Janssen and Whitmore for the affirmative, and L. Brown and Miss Weston for the negative. The judges were Messrs. Puzey and Heworth, and Mr. Jorgensen. They awarded their decision in favor of the negative. The balance of the evening was devoted to vocal and instrumental music, Messrs. Williams and Borge favoring the audience with vocal and instrumental selections. Both these gentlemen received an encore. The organ accompanists of the evening were Mrs. Puzey and the Misses Weston and Roy. Before closing the question of the Christmas tree entertainment for the children again came under discussion, and it was decided that the proceeds on hand to the credit of the society be expended on presents, etc., for the Christmas tree. The bachelors of the Society took up a self-denial collection in favor of the social supper on Wednesday evening, the 26th inst., to commemorate their victory in the famous debate "Resolved that bachelors should be elected in favor of the negative, and also because the legislature has exempted them from taxation for pecuniary reasons." A worthy bachelor broached the question in open meeting "whether it was advisable to call him a bachelor when he was engaged." The President, in behalf of the Society, replied that in his opinion he was a bachelor until he brought his fair one home. Applause. The meeting closed with praise and the Benediction.

Liberals Cannot Shift Blame for Killing Highways Bill.

Cold Facts Are That Two Measures Were Rejected by Senate at Laurier's Behest.

The Liberals are finding their continued opposition to the Highways Bill so unpopular that a desperate attempt is being made to shift the blame. The Liberal press and Liberal orators are trying to shift responsibility from the Senator who killed the measure at the dictation of Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

How Liberals can escape the consequences of their action it is hard to see. The facts are too well known. The Highways Bill, which would have given a million dollars for better roads, was defeated in 1912 by the Liberal majority in the Senate, and again in 1913, a similar bill, worth $2,500,000 for better roads, was chloroformed by the Upper house. These are the cold facts, and it is impossible for Laurier or his lieutenant to shift responsibility or evade the consequences.

In the meantime, despite the extra financial obligations, several of the provinces have undertaken good roads campaigns. The Ontario government has appointed a commission which is studying the problem at the present time. Sir Rodolph Roblin, Premier of Manitoba, has announced that his government has decided to inaugurate good roads policy that will make for the betterment of the highways of the province. The Premier has announced that he will introduce at the next session of parliament an act authorizing an expenditure in capital works of $2,500,000 for the purposes of improvement of highways.

Ontario is already building highways through the Western districts, and a provincial commission is at work studying the whole problem. The Senate cannot prevent these measures.

home on the subject of sport, and gave a very sound speech. He thought Red Deer was particularly well favored by the number of clean, good sports it possessed in all its branches. He would like to see sport developed though on more systematic lines, and as a community he thought we were not doing enough for juvenile sport. He would like to see it developed more in the schools. As far as the intellectual training of our boys and girls was concerned, our schools were second to none, but they needed a physical instructor who could take charge of the boys in all their games, and we should have better athletes. He hoped the citizens would take the matter up and each do his share in well-carrying out these objects.

Mr. J. Snell replied for football. He thought others should have been called upon, older and more eloquent than himself. He believed football to be the finest sport known, not excepting curling, and spoke of it being played among the Romans as a game of strength. It is the most wildly played game of the kind, and makes boys into men. He was pleased with the number of good sports in this city, and had always found them ready to respond to the call for football as for other sport.

J. Mann replied on behalf of the hockey players, a game he was very fond of. He sympathized with his fellow curlers very much, and was getting on, so that he had enjoyed at his opponent's expense. He then went on to say "something about baseball, remarking upon the sorry experience they had last year with the professional team. It had crippled the game for this year, but he hoped it would come again; there was room for both games."

J. C. Goss expressed gratitude on behalf of the tennis players, but wished someone else had been called upon to respond to the toast. The game had been played a summer, while the tennis club, which was in the club, there was room for lots more. The Davis cup had created a lot of interest, and he hoped we would raise some more money for tennis in the future. He would also like to see the rugby game taken up here, also the development of shooting.

O. K. Johnston now sang "Loch Lomond" and was encored, responding again in good style. The chairman next said he had been presented with a petition which he wished to read to the Club. The petition was signed by Geo. W. Greene, W. E. Payne, W. G. Brown, and others, and asked the club to do it as good as a Scotchman, Lord, Welliver and Dr. McEwan. This was received with roars of laughter and cries for song, song. R. B. Clarke, who had now won it three times, it was a competition somewhat different from the others, and had been won single-handed against all comers. He wished his success again in years to come.

Hugh Clarke, in thanking Mr. Botterill for his remarks, said he was no speaker, but there was no doubt about him loving the game of curling, and he wished the ladies were present and the silver Easter could be given to Mrs. Clarke, and hoped someone else would be successful in winning it next year.

Principal McKenzie was now called upon to present the Stone Cup. He said he would have liked to have had Dr. Plaxton present to receive it, and thought that another year a committee should be appointed to fetch him. He, however, felt grateful to Mr. Plaxton for putting up with such a poor speaker as he, the speaker was, for a season. This cup to him was the greatest of all, because it was the Club Cup and won on points. He also gave W. E. Payne a piece of his mind in Gaelic for speaking of the Scotch the way he did; he was too full for utterance to speak in any other tongue, which brought down the house.

Mr. William Quinton gave a good turn for the next item by playing selections on the piano and mouth organ at the same time, which was a novelty in the musical line.

The last presentation was the Bonspiel Cup, and this duty was undertaken by A. A. Gaetz, who said he had Dr. Plaxton with pleasure on the banquet they had sat down to in the past, particularly in the earlier days. Talking of sport, we had got back to the olden times for the real thing when it often occurred that the spectators took a hand in the game. Red Deer was one of the best little sporting towns smith's which about equalled his ability as a curler. Mr. Payne received the cup with joy, remarking that the cup, like the Scotch donor, didn't amount to much after all. W. E. Lord was now called upon to present the Brumpton Cup. He spoke of the splendid services rendered by the Curling Club by Mr. Brumpton and would have liked to have seen him present. Time was getting on, so that he wished to be brief, and in presenting the cup to J. M. Campbell, with the individual prizes for the rink, he congratulated him and said he hoped to win it from him next year.

J. M. Campbell, in reply, said he was proud of the success of his rink in winning the cup. He hoped the Club would be as successful this year as last. He had never been connected with a club that was composed of better sports, and he congratulated them on their splendid rink, which he commended favorably with the committee for getting new members and he thought the Club would easily be 150 strong, and there was every hope that the new members would be a credit to the club, and hoped the old members would give them all assistance possible.

W. H. Hadley contributed the next item, a song, "There are nice girls everywhere." He received an encore, the meeting insisting on him singing "Henry the Eighth."

This was followed by the presentation of the Scott Cup by W. J. Botterill. He was new at the game, he said, and wished to expostulate to do it as good as a Scotchman, he only being a fair-haired Swede. It gave him great pleasure to present the cup and souvenir to Hugh Clarke, who had now won it three times. It was a competition somewhat different from the others, and had been won single-handed against all comers. He wished his success again in years to come.

Hugh Clarke, in thanking Mr. Botterill for his remarks, said he was no speaker, but there was no doubt about him loving the game of curling, and he wished the ladies were present and the silver Easter could be given to Mrs. Clarke, and hoped someone else would be successful in winning it next year.

Principal McKenzie was now called upon to present the Stone Cup. He said he would have liked to have had Dr. Plaxton present to receive it, and thought that another year a committee should be appointed to fetch him. He, however, felt grateful to Mr. Plaxton for putting up with such a poor speaker as he, the speaker was, for a season. This cup to him was the greatest of all, because it was the Club Cup and won on points. He also gave W. E. Payne a piece of his mind in Gaelic for speaking of the Scotch the way he did; he was too full for utterance to speak in any other tongue, which brought down the house.

Mr. William Quinton gave a good turn for the next item by playing selections on the piano and mouth organ at the same time, which was a novelty in the musical line.

The last presentation was the Bonspiel Cup, and this duty was undertaken by A. A. Gaetz, who said he had Dr. Plaxton with pleasure on the banquet they had sat down to in the past, particularly in the earlier days. Talking of sport, we had got back to the olden times for the real thing when it often occurred that the spectators took a hand in the game. Red Deer was one of the best little sporting towns in the world, and they always contrived to pay for all sport in which they took a hand.

Mr. Clarke accepted the cup with thanks, and called upon F. M. Hacking, who replied, making a neat speech. The rink was naturally proud of its achievement, and Claire Stone also spoke as one of the rink and said he felt proud of the honors they had won. The genial Jim Baird, another member of the winning rink, took a hand in the speaking, but did not take up much time.

Tom Gaetz was here called upon for the old favorite song "The Red River Valley," which appears to be an institution with the curlers, and, being entered, gave another old time favorite "Life in a Hall Broad Shave" amidst great applause.

This being towards the end of the programme, the chairman called for remarks for the good of the club. A. R. Gibson suggested that the drawing for the singles was all wrong, and believed it would be better if the draw was made from only those members who signified their intention of entering the competition, instead of as at present carried out.

He would also like to see another method used than the one in vogue of the points contest.

A list was passed round at this stage of the proceedings to give members who wished a chance of signing on for this year.

The next business was the reading of the annual statement by Secretary Lindsay, which on motion of H. Wallace and T. A. Gaetz, was adopted as read.

THE SUPREME COURTMr. Justice Walsh Presiding

The Supreme Court last week opened Tuesday two o'clock to hear civil cases. Mr. Justice Walsh presiding. The first case was McDonald Brothers vs. estate of Edward Leadley, The Saskatchewan Land and Homestead Company and Trusts and Guarantees Co., J. C. Moore appearing for the plaintiffs and Greene & Payne for defendants. This is one of the disputes that arose because of the litigation between J. C. Moore, the estate of Leadley, and the Saskatchewan Land and Homestead Co., and the only one which has had to be brought before the courts.

The plaintiffs sued for specific performance of an agreement of sale Sec. 31-36-28, bought from John T. Moore, acting as agent for estate of Edward Leadley, in March, 1906. The defence was a denial of Mr. Moore's authority at that time to make the sale. Mr. M. J. McDonald, one of the plaintiffs, described in detail how he had bought the land from Mr. W. A. Moore, acting for his father. The first payment was made in cash and short notes, which had been met when due. When he offered to make the second payment the money had been refused, the reason given being that the land was subject to litigation. He had repeatedly asked Mr. Cunningham, in 1911, the agent of the Saskatchewan Land Co., when he could get title to the land and finish paying for it. Mr. Cunningham had written offering him the refusal of the land at $20 per acre, the original price being $6.75, and repudiating the agreement. Receiving notice to quit, he had got Mr. J. C. Moore to put a caveat on the land, which was recorded on June the 29th, 1911. He had tendered the balance due in full, $4,350.68, on November 16th, 1911. The defendants had refused to accept the money or sign the transfer.

Mr. Payne cross-examined this witness at some length. He did not know of any litigation until after the purchase. He had paid no taxes. The agreement he had was an interim receipt pending the execution of a formal agreement, failing which the money was to be refunded. Mr. Cunningham had said he did not recognize Mr. Moore's authority. He had never received any tax bills, and Mr. Cunningham had not told him he had paid the taxes.

Mr. W. A. Moore's evidence corroborated that of Mr. McDonald. His power of attorney from Mr. J. T. Moore had not been in writing, but he was acting as his business agent. He had not received a notice in 1906 not to sell lands, but only private instructions from his principal. Mr. Camley P. Newell, solicitor of Edmonton, gave evidence concerning the various legal steps in the litigation.

The defendants called Mr. G. W. Greene, the main points of whose evidence were that in January, 1906, he had served on Messrs. W. A. Moore and W. J. Owen, on behalf of the Leadleys, a notice forbidding them to have anything to do with the lands in question. In June, 1904, Mr. J. T. Moore and Annie M. Moore had been served with a writ of summons and an injunction in the suit of the Saskatchewan Land and Homestead Co. vs. the Moores, restraining them from dealing with these lands. This injunction had never been cancelled, although in 1905 an arrangement was made that all actions in Alberta were to be allowed to stand and abide by the result of the case in Ontario about to be tried. Mr. J. E. Cunningham was also called, and gave his version of the interviews with Mr. McDonald, and, reading from entries he had made in his blotter, stated that at the time McDonald made tender of the money, McDonald told him that three weeks after the deal with W. A. Moore, Mr. John T. Moore had told him of the litigation. This would be before the whole of the first payment had been completed.

Messrs. W. A. Moore and M. J. McDonald were recalled by the plaintiffs to clarify some of the points in dispute. Mr. Payne was then called upon by the judge for his argument for the defence, which lasted until noon on Wednesday. He argued that Mr. J. T. Moore had had no right to sell the land, owing to the injunction mentioned above. He himself had obtained an injunction restraining the Leadleys from selling. The interim receipt was not a sufficient writing as required by law. It did not show the names of the Leadleys, and set out that there was to be a formal agreement, the terms of which were not shown in it. Mr. McDonald had known before placing any improvements on the property that the title was in dispute, and that his only relief was to receive a refund of the money which had been offered to him.

Mr. Moore's arguments lasted until about three o'clock, his main points being that the plaintiffs had acted in good faith throughout, that they had always been ready and willing to fulfil their part of the bargain. It had been proved by the first payment having been received successively and accounted for by Mr. W. A. Moore, by Mr. J. T. Moore, by the Leadleys, and by the Saskatchewan Land and Homestead Co. Had the land in question depreciated in value, there was no doubt the plaintiffs would have been held to the agreement, and as it had appreciated, the defendants should abide by it.

Mr. Justice Walsh said it appeared that the plaintiffs had acted in good faith throughout. He thought, whatever might be the legal aspects of the case, that the defendants might very well have let the bargain stand. As a matter of equity, he was strongly inclined to side with the plaintiffs, but the law of the matter needed careful consideration, and he would have to reserve his decision.

The next case called was that of Burrell v. Vietmeier, in which the plaintiff sued for $600 due on a note. The parties to the action dissolved partnership in April, 1912. Vietmeier was to pay Burrell $600. Plaintiff held this note, which defendant claimed was forged. A criminal action had followed, which was now postponed, pending the result of this suit.

For the plaintiffs two witnesses appeared, besides himself, Mr. and Mrs. Williamson. Mr. Vietmeier himself was the only witness for the defence.

After hearing all the evidence, and comparing the signature with defendant's writing, Justice Walsh decided that the note was bona fide, and gave judgment accordingly. The criminal case against Burrell is therefore squashed. Mr. E. H. Jones appeared for plaintiff, and Messrs. McDonald and McBride for defendant.

Two cases, that of Spurrell v. Lander et al, and that of Sheldrick v. Nunneley, were adjourned to the one, that of the First National Bank v. Lakeman et al, was settled out of court.

The court adjourned at about five p.m. on Wednesday evening.

SYLVAN LAKE

Municipal Politics Growing Warm.

The municipal election vat is now in the first stage of fermentation. Deep lying matter is pushing its way to the top, and soon the whole vintage will be formed, bubbling and twisting and turning, until finally thrown off all extraneous matter and settles down for its twelve months' rest.

Efforts are being made by the French community to obtain supreme control of the Council, and coming municipal events promise to be somewhat lively. The present Council, the first Council of the Lake, consists of Mr. (Gordon) (Hollander), Mr. Alexander Loisele (French Canadian), and Mr. A. A. Godden (English), with Mr. Douglas Simson, also an Englishman, as Secretary-Treasurer. Almost as much interest is taken in the latter appointment as in the election itself, and the excitement in the village already runs high to the accompaniment of many rumors and statements, mostly false. The only resigning member is, I believe, Mr. Grimson. I am informed that Dr. Rousseau will put up for election in his place, and that failing the resignation of one of the two remaining members, Mr. Godden in fact, the French community will run either Mr. Charles Archambault or M. Pons, both of the Sylvan Lake Trading Co. As Mr. Godden is not without drawing, there is every likelihood for a keen fight.

It is of the gravest importance to the village that at this early stage of its incorporation it should be represented on the Council by men who have the interests of the entire community at heart, and in Mr. Godden we have a man not only carrying the necessary experience, but having that rare quality—the strength of character and energy to enable him to stand out for what is for the general good—that stamps him as an ideal Councilor.

Rumors as to the erection of a really first class hotel at the Lake, brick built and furnished and upholstered in the latest and most up-to-date fashion, are still persistent, despite repeated denials. It is what we all want, and the sooner it comes the better, both for Red Deer people and the Lake.

Another large bunch of fine cattle, purchased by Messrs. Rousseau and Simson, arrived in the village on Thursday last.

The Sylvan Lake Hotel has once more been re-opened, this time by Mr. Rutter, with our genial old friend, Sam Lee, installed as chef. M. Ballin, previous to leaving the Lake for Edmonton, has sold his car to M. LeSaunier, who will carry on the business of conveying passengers and parcels to and from Red Deer.

Mr. Edmond Rossi, our postmaster, has left the Lake on a trip to France.

Government Assistance To Timothy Growers

A striking example of the necessity of improvements in the methods of cleaning timothy seed can be seen in the following figures, which are published by the Seed Laboratory, Calgary, where a number of samples were tested for farmers and merchants.

The samples in almost every case were of exceptional quality, and would rank amongst the first on the market.

The suitability of many parts of Alberta and British Columbia for growing timothy for seed is unquestionable, and it is the intention of the Government, through the Seed Branch, to assist farmers in their methods of handling and marketing their seed.

Last year the Dominion Seed Laboratory at Calgary examined 317 samples of timothy, which were received from farmers. 135 of these came from Alberta, 11 from British Columbia, 8 from Manitoba, and 1 from the United States. Of 317 samples received, 278 were examined for weed seeds and graded as follows: Extra No. 1, 7; No. 1, 23; No. 2, 99; No. 3, 54; Rejected, 95.

Samples containing more than 80 noxious weed seeds, or a total of over 400 of all kinds of weed seeds per ounce, are rejected and prohibited from sale, under section 9 of the "Seed Control Act."

Lamb's quarters is by far the most prevalent weed seed found in western timothy, occurring in 204 of the samples. Rough cinquefoil is the next, being found in 138. Samples of other common weed seeds are wormseed, mustard, gentian, yarrow, blue eyes grass, pepper grass, tower mustard, evening primrose, western flax, hall mustard, curled dock, and cutch. Many of these weed seeds could be easily removed from timothy by an ordinary fanning mill, fitted with the proper sieves.

Farmers having timothy seed are invited to send samples to the Seed Laboratory, Calgary, for grading, or to receive information as to the proper sieves to be used for cleaning their particular seed.

Sample bags in which seed may be sent, as well as further particulars in regard to taking and sending samples, may be had by sending a request to the above address. Twenty-five samples of seed will be tested free of charge for any one party, after that 25c a sample is charged.

Alberta Amateur Hockey Association Meet at Calgary

A very largely attended meeting of the Alberta Amateur Hockey Association was held in Calgary on Friday week. The larger part of the meeting was taken up on the discussion of inter-city hockey plan. A warm time was had on the subject, and had it not been for the Rev. Robt. Pearson there was no knowing where it would have ended, the respective delegates being keen on their own particular views on the matter. At one stage three representatives of Edmonton teams withdrew, returning later and asking for the South Side team to be grouped with No. 1. This being granted, peace reigned once more. The grouping was then arranged as follows: Group No. 1, Edmonton Pennants, Alberta University and South Side. Group No. 2, Eskimos, Dominions, Chinooks, and Centrals. Group No. 3, Redfords, Medicine Hat, Taber, and possibly Lethbridge. The question of the formation of the Western Canada Hockey Association will be supported by the A.A.H.A. There were two clubs represented. The election of officers for the ensuing year brought out a whole lot of oratory. President Pearson, Secretary Mann, made known their intention of resigning. The meeting at once read known their intentions that they would not stand for it, and many striking tributes were paid them, particularly by the Edmonton representatives, and eventually the following officers were elected:

Hon. Pres.—R. B. Bennett, K.C. M.P.
Hon. Vice-Pres.—Hon. A. L. Sifton.

President—Robt. Pearson.
Vice-Pres.—Le Roy Chown.
Vice-Pres.—Walter Noss.
Sec.—Treas.—Jas. Mann.

Executive—Deacon White, Anthony McKinley, Prof. Edwards and E. P. Murphy.

The President's and Secretary's reports were presented in full detail.

Correspondence

North Red Deer, Nov. 10, 1913.
To the Editor of The News.

Dear Sir—A large number of the ratepayers turned out to be present at the meeting held by the Council and Board of Health of the Village in the Town Hall, last night. Rev. Kent was in the chair. The proposal of the Council to form a health board for fire protection was favored by all present.

The by-law passed by the Board of Health recently re: sanitation of the village, was discussed at some length. The sense of the meeting was: That all expenses incurred by the movement should be paid out of the general funds, as all the ratepayers in the village would reap equal benefits from having an exceptionally clean village from a sanitary point of view.
Rev. Kent has proved himself to be an efficient and progressive official and should be re-elected if prevailed on to stand again for municipal honors.

A RATEPAYER.

Heavy Bookings For Christmas Holidays

The bookings for the Christmas holidays this year bid fair to be a long way ahead of any previous year as far as this district is concerned, and indications point to the fact that a large percentage of those crossing the water to spend the winter months are from the farming community, which is another indication of successful crops, and the longing one has at this time of the year to be with relatives in the lands of their forefathers. W. C. Donlevy, the C.P.R. agent, among a large number of round trippers, has booked the following people for visits to the old lands across the waters of the Atlantic: Dr. and Mrs. Tancie and son, Sylvan Lake; O. Knight, Pine Lake; Sid Hopkins, Lethbridge; Mr. and Mrs. McKee, John Lund, Chas. Wenzel, J. Lander, F. Hall, M. Davis, Peter Olson, John Carlson, Rev. Sisters Jackson, Coteau and Lundau, Rich Smith, I. Hyrum, C. Correll, C. Jackson, Rev. Mr. Barton, Arthur and Mrs. Davidson and son, and Lloyd Williams.

Officers Alberta Sunday School Association

Elected by Lethbridge and Edmonton conventions, Oct. 27-29 and Oct. 30-31, 1913:

President—R. J. Robinson, Edmonton.

Vice-President—A. W. Ward, Calgary.

Vice-President—J. H. Taber, Lethbridge.

Vice-President—J. D. Higinbotham, Lethbridge.

Vice-President—John T. Ross, Edmonton.

Recording Secretary—E. M. Willson, Red Deer.

Treasurer—J. E. Buchanan, Calgary.

International Committee—Geo. S. Dingle, Calgary.

Committee—Jos. P. Tracy, Lethbridge; J. Torrance, Lethbridge; B. F. Souch, Medicine Hat; W. E. Hay, Medicine Hat; A. M. McPhail, Edmonton; Arthur F. Hurlston, Edmonton; R. W. Hedley, Edmonton; G. C. Cornelle, Camrose; H. E. Cutler, Wetaskiwin; H. S. Clough, Tees; J. H. Lavender, Calgary; Geo. H. Hage, Calgary.

All of the above form "The Executive Committee" of the Provincial Board of the Alberta Sunday School Association.

General Secretary—F. E. Werry, 19 Mackie Block, Calgary, Alta.

SPORT NOTES

William C. Vaillancourt, of Texas, a soldier, is looking for a trainer and backer in the boxing world, thinking he can readily become a white hope. He stands 6 feet, 9 inches, and weighs 284 pounds. His nickname is Tiny, and he says he never finds it necessary to hit a man twice.

Sam Savage, of Calgary, is generally understood, will retain possession of the Calgary baseball club for another year. He refused two offers of $5,000 for the club recently.

James Mann has been appointed by the A.A.H.A. as convener for the central group in the Alberta hockey league.

The correspondent who styles himself "Old Skate" in our last issue, puts up a strong plea for a skating rink in his letter, and incidentally gives a little credit to our sporting editor for his attitude on this question. I don't think "Old Skate" will have any cause to grumble another year about a rink, for, as we pointed out last week in our notes, the Council were not only alive to the subject, but they were also sympathetic, and will do their part if the citizens will do theirs. In the event of the ladies getting busy on this question, the Council will have a joyful time.

D. E. Cushing, sporting editor of the Medicine Hat Times, has been appointed Secretary of the Western Canada Baseball League by President James Fleming.

The Red Deer Curling Club quartette is something to be heard and never forgotten. If you don't care to believe us, ask anybody who was at the banquet on Friday last.

The success of the party who left Red Deer, consisting of F. Lund, F. Pettipiece, H. Gleissinger, and J. Kuttan, one month ago, hunting for deer, was well earned. It is not a usual thing for each one of the party to secure a fine specimen of moose, as happened this time, but the writer has seen the heads of the deer and can vouch for them being very fine. The head secured by Mr. Kuttan was slightly the largest, but had one of the points on the big antlers. The party journeyed part of the distance by auto, then on by rig. At one stage of the journey they were three days going forty miles. At another stage they had to cut chunks of ice and float them down the centre of the Beaver River before being able to cross. Other rivers were forded at great personal risk before reaching their destination, these being only a few of the difficulties that had to be overcome. However, they were successful, and that is the main point, and we congratulate them.

The Red Deer branch of the Alberta Natural History Society decided at their annual meeting on Friday last, to offer two prizes of $2 each each for the best essay on "What they saw and heard at the Empress Theatre on the evening of November 20th, 1913," written by any boy or girl at ending school. Essays to be in the hands of Principal McKenzie not later than noon of Dec. 2nd.

At the College tea, Saturday, November 22nd, the household science class gave a tea to friends. This is one part of their training, and as students of home economics they are given a stated sum within which they must limit their expenses, and they are also allowed a certain number of guests. All the preparations and all the work lies wholly on the students who undertake it. On Saturday Miss P. Poucher, Miss Matthews, Miss Barnes and Miss Dolson, four Edmonton girls, gave the tea. The flowers, which were very beautiful, were the gift of a friendly and interested florist of Edmonton. The guests freely praised the first effort of these young women. Certainly they have profited by their training, and when they undertake the more difficult task before them, we wish them equal success.

PENHOLD NOTES.

Rev. H. Arthur Barton leaves for Scotland, England and Paris on December 9th. The special cause for Mr. Barton's trip is the condition of his aged father, who has been a chaplain in the English army.

The regular Sunday services on the Penhold circuit will be continued during Mr. Barton's absence. He expects to be back about March 1st. The presentation of the play "Diamonds and Hearts," by the Penhold Dramatic Club, on Friday evening last, was an unqualified success from every point of view.

The Rev. Mr. Samuel, of Penhold, was thrown from his horse Sunday and very severely shaken up. He took his afternoon appointment however.

DUPERRIER CHILDREN SENT TO A HOME.

Inspector Lindsay, of the Department of Neglected Children, Edmonton, made an application before Judge Lees on Saturday last for the removal of three children, two girls and a boy, whose ages range from 12 to 16 years, from the custody of their father, Mr. DuPerrier, on the grounds that they were living under an environment that was a detriment to their moral and living. Judge Lees granted the application, and ordered the children handed over to the Department of Neglected Children, and they were taken to Edmonton Monday noon.

To The Electors

Mr. Editor:—Would you kindly allow me a little space in your paper of this week's issue to inform the ratepayers of Red Deer that, having been asked to come out as Councillor for our 1914 Council, I have decided to accept, hoping that I may, as a member of the Council, do my share in helping to look after the interests of the ratepayers, providing I am elected. True, one man cannot do much, but no ratepayer will have cause to complain that I have not done my best to look after the personal as well as public interest of each and every ratepayer of the city of Red Deer; and, further, I shall make it my personal business to become acquainted with the different works undertaken by our municipal government, and where I either see or find out that things are not being done as they should, shall not hesitate to bring the matter before both the Council and Commissioners. I may state that it is not my intention to make a canvass of the ratepayers for the simple reason that if the people wish to have me as one of their councillors they will give me the vote that will place me there.

Respectfully,

H. G. STONE.
